THE MAY FETES.

We must go back many years to find a precedent to the enthusiasm with which the Independence fêtes were celebrated in this city last Monday. Since the days of Pavon the annual commemoration of the 25th of May has been more or less an official ceremony in which the Government, the Congress, the army and the navy figured, but the people seldom. This indifference of the people was often attributed to political motives, and we regret to say rightly so: in the bitter struggle between leading Porteño "caudillos" the people tacitly agreed to abstain from any participation in the glorious anniversaries of the country. Later on it was argued, when in the midst of peace the people were prosperous and happy, that the National anniversaries lacked the electric enthusiasm of similar festivities in other countries, owing to the thoroughly cosmopolitan hue of the population of this city. For many years we have seen the Presidents and Ministers of this country, the high dignitaries of state and the troops march past on the 25th of May and 9th of July through sullen and apathetic crowds of spectators; we have seen the Plaza Mayo deserted and we have often wondered what damping effect chilled the people. Last Monday, however, all Buenos Ayres turned out to join in the glorious 25th; fully 50,000 people thronged the Plaza Mayo and cheered the troops as they marched past in their new uniforms. The gallant fellows looked very well: they were clean, spruce, and well drilled. The Palermo cadets looked splendid and performed their evolutions, as they went zig-zig through the swelling mob that no police force could force back, in a masterly manner: cheers rent the air as they passed. The 2nd and 12th of the Line met with similar demonstrations of popular sympathy and admiration. Even the cavalry and artillery looked much better than in previous years; the horses were fat, the men were well dressed, the guns glittered in the rays of the sun; in fact, the parade was a success in every respect. General Bartolome Mitre, who is always a great favorite with the people, was cheered to the echo as he watched the defile from the Government House. We may, however, state that we heard not a single cheer for the President or his Ministers—a rather ominous sign. In fact, we do not remember seeing a crowd in Buenos Ayres cheer any President, except General Mitre, who is always the idol of the people.

All the streets of the city were decorated for the occasion; from the majority of houses flags were hoisted and bunting was even more general than on the 6th of last August. In the suburbs whole streets appeared a canopy of blue and white colours. At night the illumination of the Plaza Mayo was quite dazzling, and all the public buildings in the central streets were ablaze with gas jets; in this respect we must compliment our colleague La Nacion on the splendid illumination at its fine premises—from top to bottom illumined with white and blue lamps. The private banks were covered with flags of the country we live in. In fact the whole population turned out to revive the spirit of patriotism, and all joined in the common task of making the occasion as glorious and as gorgeous as possible.

One of the chief attractions of the fetes was the march past of the boy regiments and of the triumphal allegorical car of the Republic; the latter contained fifteen beautiful girls, one representing the Republic, the others the Provinces, 14 in number; they were all dressed in the National colors, blue and white. The idea was a most happy one, and the people cheered until they became hoarse as the car passed. The bust of San Martin was also a feature in the procession. But the admired of all were the boy soldiers, commemorating the troops of San Martin and of Independence days. The brave little fellows did their best, but they broke down before the end of the journey; the crowd admired them immensely, ladies rushed forward to embrace them, and tons of flowers were scattered over their devoted heads as they marched past in the Calle Florida. Not a balcony was empty in that street, not a house was unadorned; the street looked one mass of flags round which human clusters hung at every balcony, on every "azotea." The sight was one seldom witnessed in Buenos Ayres; and it was admirable to watch how the people, native and foreign, entered into the spirit of the fetes. At night the fireworks were a surprise; they were much superior to former years and reflect much credit on the contractors.

One word before concluding; the people of Buenos Ayres will long remember the 25th of May 1891. We sincerely think that the crisis has much to do with the revival of ostensible patriotism in our streets and squares. It is, no doubt, a moment when the people must fall back on patriotism and abnegation to make them forget the evils of the moment. May that same indomitable spirit help them in the future never to tolerate erratic Governments or legislators and prepare them to overcome the crisis and cement the foundations of sound and honest Government.

THE SECOND PATRIOTIC LOAN.

Congress has seen fit to pass a qualified reprimand on the National Government for having launched the second Patriotic Loan, sometimes known as the Internal Loan of March 7th, not because there was anything morally or intrinsically wrong in the transaction, but because "it proved inefficacious and erroneous." If all efforts for good in this world were to be condemned because they may sometimes prove inefficacious there would be little hope of doing any benefit to mankind. But it is not true that the second Patriotic Loan was altogether a failure. The immediate object was to save the State-banks, and if they had not been so hopelessly insolvent the loan in question would certainly have saved them. But the ulterior (and principal) was to prevent another avalanche of shinplasters and Curso Forzoso; and in this respect the loan was a complete success. The matter is so well elucidated in yesterday's Prensa that we reproduce the article on this subject as follows:—

"The recent Patriotic loan has been frequently censured by the advocates of unlimited paper-money, as might be expected, because it averted the calamity of a fresh issue of shinplasters: their censure was, therefore, a matter that gave us no concern.

"But when the Special Commission of the Senate has ventured to condemn it as mistaken, inefficacious and unjustifiable we feel bound to put the question in its proper light. Let us recall the circumstances under which the measure was adopted. A panic prevailed in the market, accompanied by a run on the State-banks. It was necessary to devise in a few hours some plan to meet the situation and to prevent the most tremendous consequences. The shinplaster party already counted on an easy victory, and only debated whether 100 or 200 millions would be sufficient to save the State-banks and put in circulation a large amount of paper-money to enable 'morose debtors' to meet their most pressing obligations.

"At such a moment even the Government lent ear to the idea of issuing metallic notes with Curso Forzoso for the discharge of all gold debts. The danger was imminent, and in view of it the private banks, the merchants and the principal estancieros proposed as a remedy the new Patriotic Loan, to which the National Government gave its consent.

"It was a bold measure, at a time of such distress and panic, to bring forward a loan for 100 millions redeemable in 20 years. The shinplaster party heaped ridicule upon it; the National Government looked with coldness on the expedient; the Provincial Government of Buenos Ayres opposed it openly.

"Nevertheless, in the first month subscriptions amounted to 44 millions, and the first instalment in cash exceeded 10 millions.

"We are now told that the effort was withal powerless to save the State-banks, which is quite true. Even the whole sum of 100 millions would have been insufficient, because as a matter of fact 200 millions were needed to satisfy the depositors in the two State-banks.

"But we must not shut our eyes to the fact that the loan checked the panic, and even then the banks might have been saved if the Government had at once handed over the banks to Boards composed of the principal depositors, and abrogated for ever all Government interference in their affairs. This would have perhaps given some confidence to the public, for without confidence banks are useless.

"Admitting that the loan was inefficacious to save the State-banks, was it therefore erroneous and unjustifiable? Quite the reverse. It served as a Plebiscite, to tell the Government that any further issue of paper-money would be ruinous: it defeated the policy of unlimited issues of shinplasters as a cure for the crisis.

"Was it an error for the public, in the midst of a sea of troubles, to offer the Government a loan of 30 millions net, without any other hope or purpose than to avert a terrible danger and to give proof of their readiness to aid the Government in rescuing the country by means of their own resources?

"From the minute passed by the Senate it would seem that our legislators believe all the economic and financial interests of the Republic centred in the State-banks, and that the loan could have no other object than to save those banks. But, we have every reason to be thankful that, if we have not saved the banks, we have saved society from fresh issues of shinplasters, a matter of far greater importance.

'Moreover, it is well to bear in mind that this popular subscription of 30 millions, at a time when our credit in Europe was paralysed, our State-banks were ruined, and Buenos Ayres was groaning under a severe crisis, was the only proof of internal and financial solidity that had been given to the world. We had, indeed, for some years been dreaming of millions, fancying we were all plutocrats, but this was the first tangible evidence of what Buenos Ayres can do in a moment of extreme pressure.

"We almost venture to think that the effort may yet be turned to further practical advantage. The National Government is now trying to organize a great Bank of the Republic, and it is possible that the whole proposed capital of 50 millions may not be taken up by the public. In that case would it not be easy to convert the holders of the Patriotic Loan into shareholders of the new bank? Supposing, however, that this idea be altogether excluded, how can Congress condemn as erroneous and unjustifiable an operation that causes an influx of 30 millions into the National Treasury?"

THE CORDOBA REVOLUTION.

Everything is quiet in Cordoba, but everybody is much alarmed, as the disclosures that are daily published are not of a nature to inspire much confidence in the future. Every day throws some fresh light on the origin, aim, proportions and means of the frustrated movement. It appears that a great conspiracy is afoot with ramifications in other provinces and head-quarters in the capital. As far back as last October this conspiracy was organized to raise the flag of rebellion in Cordoba, Santiago, Santa Fe and Entre Rios; owing to certain insuperable difficulties in Santa Fe and Entre Rios, principally their proximity to this capital and the facility with which troops could be thrown into both provinces, the original plan of convulsion was modified, and the patriots agreed to redeem Mendoza, Tucuman and Cordoba. The presence of the 4th battalion of the line at the foot of the Andes checkmated the patriots in Mendoza; the proximity of the 11th of the Line at Jujuy may account for the profound peace of Tucuman; but Cordoba, "coute que coute," had to be convulsed, and the revolution that was smothered last Thursday might have succeeded to a certain extent but for the lynx-eyed police, who were quite familiar with all the threads of the conspiracy: they knew who the conspirators were, the weapons they held, the quarters where they met; the Buenos Ayres police also could tell who were the main instigators here, who supplied the money, who the arms. With such antecedents the fate of the subversive movement was a foregone conclusion.

The Union Civica was the parent of the movement, and this fact must necessarily shatter the reputation that excellent political body enjoyed both here and abroad. What must people think of the deliberate plan of the patriots to blow up the Cordoba Government House, the Police court, and other public buildings! There can be no doubt about this sinister plan, since the engineer engaged has made a clean breast of it. The engineer, a Belgian officer, had already bored a tunnel and laid a train; as remuneration for this terrible work he was to receive the appointment of Head of the Department of Engineers. Dynamite explosives and Orsini bombs were found in the dwellings of the patriots: these dangerous toys were to be employed in experiments on the national troops.

Up to the present over three hundred people, supposed to be implicated in the revolutionary movement, have been arrested. It is surmised that the chief aim of the conspiracy was not so much to upset the Cordoba Government as to create a general convulsion and upset the chances of the Mitre-Roca presidential agreement. The names of other men would have been put forward as Presidential candidates, had the revolution been successful. The watchword on Thursday night amongst the patriots was «Cordoba for Alem." Alem is the name of the head of the Union Civica party. It is stated that the Cordoba revolution was directed from Buenos Ayres.

It is very fortunate for the country that the conspiracy has been nipped in the bud. The disgraceful proceedings at Cordoba have cost the lives of twenty five men, not including those fatally wounded and who have succumbed since. Had the movement been more successful, the convulsion might have caused the loss of thousands. The present condition of the country does not warrant an appeal to revolution; it is peace at a moment when the republic calls for the united efforts of all to maintain order and help to raise the country out of the present terrible crisis. The Union Civica should be the most interested of all other parties in consolidating the work of reform and regeneration begun on the 26th July and confirmed on the 6th August of last year.

As an epilogue to the above scandalous disclosures comes the news that the ladies of Cordoba had appealed to the President of the Republic, to Generals Roca and Mitre, imploring mercy for the patriots who were so intent on blowing up the principal buildings in Cordoba and convulsing the whole Republic. On the heels of this appeal comes another from the Bishop and clergy of Cordoba, imploring a general amnesty from the President of the Republic. President Pellegrini has answered in the following energetic terms:

To the Rt. Rev. the Bishop of Cordoba,

Fray Domingo Toro:

It would be most agreeable to me to use my good offices with the Government of Cordoba to look with indulgence on political waywardness; more especially in the present case, at the instance of a worthy prelate and of the clergy who, inspired by the sacred principles of our religion, and invoking our glorious anniversary, appeal for the pardon of transgressors; but, in view of the details of the unheard of crime plotted in this very capital, with ramifications in other provinces—a crime unexampled in the gloomiest days of our history—I should fail in my duty as governing authority were I to withhold the hand of justice or allow this terrible crime to go unpunished and establish impunity for excesses of political ambition.

Regretting, etc.

CARLOS PELLEGRINI.

THE PORTUGAL MAILS.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

London, May 5th.

In the House of Lords yesterday, on the motion for going into Committee on the Newfoundland Fisheries Bill, Lord Kimberley moved that it was not expedient to go into Committee on the Bill, until a reasonable time had been given for Colonial legislation.

Lord Salisbury said the Government would be glad not to proceed with the Bill if they had assurances that the necessary legislation would be adopted by the Newfoundland Legislature. It was absurd to suppose that with an enlightened Government such as France had, the question would ever bring about the arbitration of war; but it was dangerous for England not to be able to renew her Treaty obligations.

Lord Kimberley's motion was rejected by 113 to 30, and the House went into Committee on the Bill.

In the House of Commons, a series of questions was put to the Chancellor of the Exchequer in reference to the intentions of the Government with regard to Free Education in Scotland, and Mr. Goschen replied that the sum allotted to Scotland would be about eleven per cent of the whole.

The debate on the amendment to the Irish Land Purchase Bill, moved by Mr. Morley, was continued at some length. It was ultimately defeated by 176 to 102.

An exciting debate took place in the French Chamber yesterday upon the May-day disturbances, and especially the lamentable occurrences at Fourmies. The Deputies who were present at the riot severely attacked the Minister of the Interior for issuing the instructions which, as they held, led to the loss of life. M. Constans, in defending his Department, paid a tribute to the patience of the gendarmes and military, who did not fire until their lives were endangered. Upon this M. Ernest Roche shouted "Assassin," for which he was censured, and excluded from the rest of the sitting. An inquiry by a Parliamentary Committee was asked for, refused by the Government, and negatived, upon a division, by 368 to 172. Finally, an Order of the Day was adopted expressing sympathy both with the working classes and the National Army, and the devotion of the Chamber to the work of social reform.

Telegrams from Odessa announce that the Military have been ordered to parade the streets every day this week, in order to prevent any disturbances between the Jews and the Russians.

Money was 2½ to 3½ yesterday, and the discount rate 3½-¾ per cent. Quotations shrank on the Stock Exchange for most descriptions of Stocks. Central Argentine Railway shares fell to 62.

CENTRAL ARGENTINE RAILWAY.

Mr. Editor,

Since reading the speech of the chairman of the board of directors of the Central Argentine Railway, delivered at a special meeting of shareholders in London, called to receive his report upon the visit which he lately made to the Argentine Republic, some of us, outsiders, who are neither shareholders nor employees of the said railway, but who take a lively interest in English enterprises in this country, have been expecting to see some answer published on this side of the ocean, to the many extraordinary statements set forth in that address, which are certainly startling enough to provoke reply.

Nothing, however, has yet appeared, except a short and pertinent note signed "Boss" in your issue a few days ago, and I, therefore, take the liberty of thinking that, in the interests of River Plate railway employees in general, and of those of the C. A. Railway in particular, something ought to be written in vindication of a staff, for whom, three years ago, no eulogy was too extravagant, but who now, when that railway begins to reap the effects of the retrograde policy pursued consistently during the last twenty years by the London Board, and the London Board alone, are to be made scapegoats of, in order to satisfy the just indignation of the shareholders, who have seen what might have been the largest and most valuable property in South America brought within measurable distance of utter shipwreck.

I have already intimated that I am an outsider, not a railway employee, and I may now add that I have sought no information which might give to anyone on the "inside track" powerful weapons with which to confute the numerous inaccuracies and contradictions of that chairman's speech, but I have lived for a quarter of century in the River Plate, and have had reason to be conversant with railway working in this country, and I think it will not be necessary to deal with more than one of the chairman's statements to demonstrate the inaccurate and unjust tone which pervades the whole address.

It is impossible to suppose that a gentleman of the position and influence possessed by the Chairman of the Central Argentine Railway would for one moment seek to hoodwink the shareholders, and thus divert their just anger from the London Board to the staff 7000 miles off, so that we must take it for granted that he was stating that which he believed to be true, and consistent with prudent policy, when he said that the climate of the River Plate enervates men very quickly, and immediately followed up this statement by a proposal to send out a new manager "of colonial or Indian experience" to retrieve the fallen fortunes of the railway.

To the ordinary English shareholder, who commonly includes the entire east coast of South America under the collective appellation of "the Brazils," and who has a vague idea that this country is peopled principally by Englishmen and "natives," anglicé Indians, with a sprinkling of other insignificant foreigners, such as Frenchmen, Germans and the like, this statement may not seem at all incorrect or extraordinary, but in us who have passed some thirty years of our lives in Argentina, and who find that our strength and energies are capable of coping even with the present crisis, notwithstanding the worthy chairman's dictum, it raises a feeling which I can only describe as one of indignant amusement.

The deduction to be drawn evidently is, that English railway men, after a few years of work in River Plate become so enervated by the climate, that they can be fitly replaced by men of "Indian experience" who have been duly fortified to resist the deadly miasmas of Argentina, by the bracing breezes of Bombay!!

It is hardly necessary to dilate upon the manifest absurdity of the above statement and I will confine myself to assuring the shareholders of the Central Argentine railway, that if some few Englishmen do become enervated in the Argentine Republic, it is due more to "cocktails" than to climate!

There is another point which is worthy of consideration in this connection, and this is, that the only recognised authorities in London upon Argentine affairs to-day are men who have passed long and useful years of their lives in Argentina. Are these men the enervated victims of a deadly climate? Are Messrs George Cooper, Reginald Neild, Thomas Charles Clarke, H. G. Anderson, and others, enervated?. If so, the rest of the members of English Boards of Directors should feel rather small, since these are the men who, immediately upon their return to the old country, are seized upon to become the leading lights of River Plate railway and bank Boards, and are justly regarded as 'men in authority.'

At the commencement of this letter I intimated that the present position of the Central Argentine railway was chiefly due to the policy pursued by the London Boards since 1872, when the line was taken over by the Company from the contractors, Messrs. Brassey Wythes and Wheelwright.

Outsiders like myself cannot give detailed proof of the above statement, but, as a straw shows which way the wind blows, I will present to your readers one or two straws, which will, I think, be sufficient to satisfy the majority of them that it is not without foundation.

Let us take, for instance, the edifying story of the purchase of the Barraca de Funes.

This property was offered to the Railway Company early in the seventies for about £4,500 sterling, and they were urged to take it, as the land, sheds and wharf adjoined the station ground at Rosario, and the local management rightly judged that it would be a most desirable purchase. Well, the Board higgled over the odd £500, and finally refused to buy, and, to make a long story short, purchased the property some 15 years afterwards, for £35,000 sterling, after having paid a heavy rent for it for some time previously.

Now for another straw. During the seventies it was seen that, as the traffic grew, alterations would have to be made in the distribution of the buildings in the kilometre of station ground then possessed by the Company, and that additional land would be required. The camp outside the station ground, for it was a hemlock-covered waste then, could be bought for something like one thousand dollars per block of 22,500 sq. yds. and again the Board was urged to buy, in prevision of probable future requirements. They steadily refused to purchase a single yard, and what was the consequence? In 1884 or 1885 the Buenos Ayres and Rosario Railway Company decided to extend their line to Rosario, and the astute manager of that concern, whose hands were not tied by his directors, went up and purchased every yard of land and river frontage he could secure from about kilom. 3 right back to the C. A. Railway gates, and absolutely shut that railway in, so that, when it became imperative for the C. A. Railway to build new workshops and obtain more river frontage, they were compelled to buy land outside of the B. A. and Rosario Railway Company's ground, and for the said river frontage and land at back of same they paid one million of gold dollars to Jewell Bros., at the rate of six and a half gold dollars the square yard!! And now, after uniformly disregarding year after year the advice and warnings of their local staff, and after throwing, as I have demonstrated, hundreds of thousands of dollars little better than into the street, they fall back upon the pitiful, ridiculous pretence that the railway owes in a great measure its present precarious condition to the enervating influence of the climate upon its employees!

In 1872 the Central-Argentine Railway held the ball at its feet. Possessor of the most generous concession ever given by the Argentine Government, the Board had but to push their enterprise, and the whole of the future railways, North, East and West, might have formed part of their system; but they simply did not understand, and never have, the requirements or possibilities of a new country, and until within the last few years they have steadfastly remained stagnant, impervious to all advice with regard to extensions or progress of any sort, convinced that they were the happy possessors of an unassailable monopoly which would never fail to yield a twelve-per-cent dividend and a cordial vote of thanks [illegible]

The narrow-gauge line (Central-Northern) was built from Cordoba to Tucuman, and years afterwards the same gauge was established in Santa Fé; the Central Northern came upon the market, and the C.A.R. Board, instead of securing their northern feeder, allowed themselves to be outwitted and outbid, the consequence being that subsequent owners linked up the Central-Northern to the Santa Fé system by means of the Central Cordoba Railway; and now that the San Francisco to Rosario line is approaching completion, thus forming a direct narrow-gauge line to Rosario from the frontiers of Bolivia on the North, from Rioja and Catamarca on the West, and from Santiago del Estero on the East, it is pretty safe to predict that the Central Argentine Railway, with a break of gauge in Cordoba, will carry very little traffic coming from or going to districts North of that city.

The Buenos Aires and Rosario Railway, under able management and without guarantee of any sort, was pushed to Galvez, then to Sunchales, then to Santiago, and finally to Tucuman, and the Central Argentine Railway let slip its last chance of recovering lost ground when an amalgamation of these two lines was proposed and declined.

With respect to the competition thus built up round the Central Argentine Railway, one point is particularly worthy of notice, demonstrating as it does a manifest contradiction in the speech under consideration.

The chairman therein emphatically states that the London Board depreciate all "rate-cutting," and we know that this has been forcibly and repeatedly impressed upon the local staff by correspondence, and also verbally by the Chairman during his late visit; and notwithstanding this he declares the intention of the Board to supersede the present staff because they do not understand or are unable to work a competitive traffic. That is to say, that, after forbidding the staff to compete with other lines by the only possible practical method, the Board dismisses them for adhering to their instructions. For a parallel case we must go back to the familiar story of the Israelites in Egypt!

The crisis and this ever-increasing competition have combined to bring down the traffic of the C. A. Railway to a minimum; the Board, at last thoroughly frightened at the consequences of its unprogressive policy, send out a commission to investigate matters, and the result is, that all employees who have, by virtue of long and efficient service, risen to a salary of more than £500 a year, (equivalent to about half that sum in England) have been notified that they are to consider themselves under notice to quit at the end of 1891, unless the new manager (of Indian experience) shall see fit to retain their services after that date.

There is a refinement of cruelty about this action of the Board, in thus hanging the sword of Damocles over the heads of tried and faithful servants, who had grown grey in their twenty to twenty-five years' service, which cannot fail to raise a feeling of indignation in every honest man's breast, and which brings forcibly to one's memory a paragraph in that admirable essay written by Herbert Spencer away back in 1854, and entitled "Railway Morals and Railway Politics," which reads as follows:—"In the first place, there is the familiar fact that the corporate conscience is ever inferior to the individual conscience—that a body of men will commit, as a joint act, that which every individual of them would shrink from did he feel personally responsible." We may take it for granted that the Board in London is composed of honourable, well-intentioned men, and we may well believe, with Herbert Spencer, that not one of them would be capable individually of saying to his own employee, as they have said corporately, to the employees of the Central Argentine Railway: "You have served us well and faithfully for more than twenty years; you have gained your present position and income by sustained and meritorious effort; and now, our policy of management having proved a disastrous failure throughout, you must suffer the consequences, and must lie under the harrow of suspense for eight or nine months, and then, probably, leave our service, and turn out with your family, to find, at the age of five and forty or thereabouts, some new employment!"

A charming prospect truly, to be held out as an incentive to the "cheaper and less efficient staff" which is to succeed the present one under a new and also, possibly, "cheaper and less efficient,' management!

I cannot close without calling your readers' attention to one more point. The Board of Directors have announced their intention of sending out a new manager of "Indian or colonial experience," who, presumably will not have resided previously in River Plate, otherwise he would have been enervated; who, probably, will be ignorant of the language, and certainly of the customs of the country and of its inhabitants, a knowledge peculiarly and specially necessary owing to the extremely cosmopolitan character of the population of Argentina. He will be assisted by a "cheaper and less efficient staff" than the present one, and, thus equipped, he will have to compete with rival lines, two of which, at least, are managed by men who have learned their business in this country, and are notably the smartest railway managers in River Plate, the climate to the contrary notwithstanding.

By this action the Board hope to regain their lost position and make the Central Argentine Railway a prosperous concern once more. Truly "Quem Deus vult perdere, prius dementat."!

I have endeavored in the foregoing, to give, as concisely as possible, though too much at length, I fear, for your or your readers' patience, a succinct idea of one or two of the causes of the present precarious position of the Central Argentine Railway, and to let the public, who read your paper on the other side of the water, know the opinion held by old and observant residents in River Plate as to the action of the London Board in the present emergency; and if what I have set down, without malice, but simply in order that a little of the truth, as we know it out here, shall reach the shareholders without previous filtering, should cause those shareholders to hesitate before allowing such sweeping and cruel injustice to be wreaked upon admittedly efficient and faithful servants, my object will have been fully gained.

Yours truly,
Ignotus.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

It affords us sincere pleasure to announce that everybody—he, she and it—enjoyed the holidays, the doings of which will be found fully described in another column.

"Algo grave" in Montevideo was spoken of yesterday. It is said that the military there are not at all content with the financial management of the country, and seem inclined to take it into their own hands.

Captain Humpage of H.M.S. Beagle will give 60 dollars to whoever finds for him a fine pointer which he lost yesterday morning in Calle Defensa, near the market.

At the sitting of the Senate yesterday all the financial bills of the Government in the Order of the Day were approved. The Secretary drew up a Bill extending indefinitely the payment of deposits in the National Bank and Provincial Bank of Buenos Ayres. Senator Alem proposed a clause in the bill, but his motion was thrown out. The Bill was carried and now goes to the Deputies, where it will be approved in lieu of the Bill suspending "terminos judiciales" for 30 days.

The Ladies Committee of the Boys Orphanage request us to thank Messrs. Woodwell and Co. for the artistic stamp so kindly made by them, free of charge for the institution.

There was a rather poor attendance at the Fronton Buenos Ayres on Sunday and Monday, due probably to the national festivites going on which unusually brilliant this year left the Fronton bereft of many of its inveterate customers. The games announced were as follows: On Sunday Beloqui and Iturrioz v. Elicegui and Samperio and on Monday Beloqui and Manco v. Elecigui and Samperio. Both games were won easily by the latter pair, due mainly to Eliceguí's fine play, as Samperio was rather out of form both days, which might be also said of Beloqui. The Manco played a fine game until all hopes was over, when he also held out signals of distress. The pair's quinela was won by Eliceguí and Pasiego and the single-handed quinelas by Cosme and Uranga respectively.

We have to thank Messrs. Mackern and Shine for late English papers. These enterprising gentlemen have now made arrangements for selling single numbers of the STANDARD in all the principal restaurants at breakfast hour; also English and North American papers on the day they arrive.

The latest return of the National Labour Office shows 114 people provided for, of whom 108 went up country. The places open for applicants are now reduced to 156. For Bahia Blanca and other places to the South there are numerous demands for hands.

The mails by the Portugal (to 6th May) show that the Labour Question is daily assuming greater importance all over Europe and causing intense anxiety to the "classes." In old England the working men are characterically taking things much more coolly than their Continental brothers; but it looks as if the "fin de siecle" will bring trouble between the toilers and the drones in all countries.

Owing to some editorial appreciations of the glorious twenty "cinco" which appeared in our esteemed contemporary the Correo Español, a body of enthusiastic young patriots, mostly students visited that establishment the other night and did rather an unpleasant lot of damage in the way of glass-breaking etc; but fellows managed to skedaddle before the police got to the scene of action. Boys will be boys; and their feelings are sometimes expressed in a highly disagreeable fashion. Several of the boys of the National College struck for a holiday on Saturday, and the ring-leaders of the movement have been expelled. It is creditable to the great majority of the students that they refused to have anything to do with the insubordination and remained at their studies.

NorthAmerican humor: "Hobs (wishing to hire a suite of rooms and thinking his friend Gilshaw can assist him)—Hello, Gilshaw; you are just the man I want to see. I've been looking for a flat for over a week."

The feature of the high tea at the Government House on Saturday night was the long hour's "tete a tete" in a strategically selected corner between Generals Mitre and Roca. Several attempts were made at flank movements and by direct attacks in front to hear what the illustrious pair were saying, but they were foiled by the masterly precautions of the two distinguished allies.

It is announced that the Argentino, organ of the Union Civica, will shortly step into the Editorial Bus again.

Dr. Calbourne, does not forget dear dirty Buenos Ayres while flourishing at home. He has sent out to Mr. Seedorff, the well-known apothecary, the "Carbolic Smoke Ball," the latest cure for colds of all kinds, and especially the Russian Influenza, which Dr. C. thinks will certainly break out in the River Plate. The C. S. B. is exhailed and cures the patient by inducing the most tremendous sneezing. As most of us in the STANDARD office have bad colds we were yesterday induced by the diplomatic persuasion of Mr. Seedorff's envoy to try the Ball. The most terrific sneezing concert ever heard on earth at once burst forth and lasted for two hours, but when the last thundering sn ssssh! was given we were all cured; and a vote of "las mas espresivas gracias" to Dr. Colbourne and Mr. Seedorff was Secciones Monte Caseros a Mercedes y Corrientes y Saladas.

Esta Empresa, deseosa de fomentar el desarrollo de algunas industrias nacientes y la prosperidad de las regiones que sus lineas atraviesan, ha dedicado aprovechar las facultades que le confiere la Ley de Ferro-Carriles Nacionales para acordar provisoriamente y hasta nuevo aviso rebajas sobre el trasporte de algunos articulos de produccion y fabricacion locales, como ser maderas, leña, huesos, piedra, carbon de leña, etc.
Para realizar esta idea dejara de cobrar desde el 25 o/o hasta el 50 o/o del aumento en el flete que la corresponda segun el tipo del oro, mientras que este no sea menor de 250 o sea un premio de 150 o/o y siempre en relacion a la cantidad de carga que se desea remitir.
Como es indispensable que toda reduccion sobre los fletes aprobados por el S. Gobierno sea hecha de conformidad con la citada Ley, es necesario que se verifique un convenio precio, por escrito entre la Administracion y los cargadores de estos productos a cuyo efecto deben los interesados dirijirse a aquella, sea en Monte Caseros o en Empredado, segun corresponda el transporte a una u otra seccion, solicitando de la respectiva rebaja.
Estas reducciones de fletes comprenden a todos los cargadores, tanto a los que remitan grandes cantidades como a los que envien pequeñas, mientras no sean menor de un wagon entero, a fin de evitar que la concesion de este beneficio de lugar a monopolios.
La tramitacion para obtener la reduccion de los fletes es sumamente sencilla, bastando al efecto un simple cambio de cartas entre esta Administracion y los interesados en conseguirla.

Hace poco tiempo se hicieron propuestas a los Directores para la adquisicion en favor del Banco de Credito Universal (de Rio de Janeiro) de la llave de este Banco en el Brazil y despues de negociaciones considerables, se propusieron terminos al Directorio, los cuales en los intereses de los Accionistas creyeron seria conveniente aceptar.
Estos terminos estan ahora contenidos en un contrato y los compradores han pagado ya un deposito de 500,000 libras esterlinas como garantia del fiel cumplimiento de sus terminos.
Los terminos del contrato propuesto son que la llave del Banco en el Brazil, su activo allá junto con todas las casas del Banco y resiciencias de los gerentes y otros efectos hasta el valor de 4,500 Contos de Réis. seran vendidos por este Banco, al Banco de Credito Universal; reteniendo este Banco la llave de sus negocios en Londres, Rio de la Plata y cualquiera otro punto (excepto en el Brazil) y el pleno derecho de negociar en Inglaterra, Rio de la Plata y cualquiera otra parte ya sea con el Brazil o de otra manera.
El precio de compra es de 875,000 libras esterlinas, menos una comision de venta de 2 1/2 por ciento pagadera a los Señores Megaw y Norton, dejando una suma liquida equivalente en cifras redondas á la devolucion del capital de 500,000 libras esterlinas empleado en el Brazil a la par y 350,000 libras esterlinas por la llave del Banco en el Brasil.

Tuesday, May 6.
A glance at the black-board to-day was sufficient to shew that the feeling in the market has not only not improved, but seems to assume even a darker hue than ever. In fact, although the Banco Unico scheme is still pending in Congress, on 'Change it has been already discussed, condemned and rejected; rather short shrift for a measure that promised so well; but with the market's disapproval stamped on it we very much doubt if it will ever assume practical shape. Suppose for a moment that in Congress it meets with a favourable reception and is passed. The 20,000,000 gold dollars of the capital then come into play. It is needless to say that this capital will not be subscribed here, and it is more than probable that if the clause be left standing providing for the handing over of the gold to the Caja de Conversion, it will not be subscribed in Europe. Furthermore, it is an admitted fact that although the market in general considers the scheme favourable to the National Bank sh

Everybody was talking of a revolution in Montevideo at the second hour, and although no details leaked out, it is supposed to be serious. The air seems to smell of gunpowder, and it is needless to say that with this following on the heels of the Cordoba affair the state of feeling is the reverse of assured tranquillity. No telegram was received on the Bolsa to-day from the Mount.

Business at the second hour was marked by another alarming spurt in gold, the ounce rising to 64.20 and closing firm at 64, which gives the equivalent at 393¼ %. Stocks were of course desperately flat, National Bank shares being done at 32, Catalinas at 5.50, Constructors at 3.80 and Obligations at 1.10. Cedulas shewed little change.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares to-day at the second ring :—

WOLSELEY SHEEP SHEARING MACHINE COMPANY LIMITED.

El Recreo, Azul, Marzo 3 de 1891.

Srs. AGAR, CROSS & CO., Calle Defensa 136.

Muy Señores Mios,

Tengo el gusto de comunicar a Vds. que las 4 maquinas de Esquilar sistema Wolseley me han dado un resultado satisfactorio y no queria darles este informe hasta no haber concluido con la esquila de borregas. La maquina trabaja bien, esquilamos con facilidad cualquiera oveja por mas fina y arrugada que sea: saca mas lana que la tijera y tiene la ventaja de no cortar, pero si en algunos casos rasguña descuidandose el esquilador. Estas lastimduras sanan facilmente, y se hacen cada vez menos cuanto mas practica se adquiere. No he notado que se me hayan muerto animales por esta causa.

Convencido de su eficacia pienso colocar doce aparatos para la proxima esquila y creo poder hacer facilmente el trabajo con ellos Puedo asegurar a Vds. que los esquiladores mas torpes aprenden facilmente, prefiriendolas a la tijera.

Pueden Vds. darle la publicidad que gusten.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S

CHLORODYNE.

The original and only genuine
Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by D. J. Collis Brown, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered
CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis Asthma.
CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.
CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.
CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, etc.
From Symes & Co', Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London. Lear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medecine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan; but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question wether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are so sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazzars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent, we could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Sapasms, Crampas, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative that have occurred under our personal observation duty many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera lately we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm Convlction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate Breach of Faith on the part of the Chemist to prescribe and Patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes and Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain. His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists'
CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne, was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodine; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See the "Times," July 13, 1864.
Sold in bottles at 1s. 1 1/2d., 2s. 9d., 4. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
CAUTION.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.

At the Estancia Grande, the property of GEORGE BELL, there are always on Sale Clydesdale and Cleveland Stallions, Durham Bulls, and Lincoln Rams, also Potros suitable for carriages and heavy draught.
As all animals offered for sale at this Estancia are by stallions, bulls, etc., imported direct from England by the owner, it would therefore be advantageous for intending purchasers to inspect the same before purchasing elsewhere.
Nearest Station (under a league from the Estancia) EMPALME PEREIRA F.C. a La Plata from whence animals can be despatched to any part of the Republic.
Animals of the same breeds are obtainable at the Estancia La Favorita. Apply to the Mayodomo, Almacen La Suiza, Carrera Tandil a Necochea, or to Hotel Dhees, Tandil; also at Estancia Santa Catalina. Apply Mayordomo, San Jose de la Esquina, F.C.O.S. Rosario.
